Thirty—Second Sunday in Ordinary Time - Year A

Next Sunday's readings: 33rd Sunday in OT: Proverbs 31:10—13, 16—18, 20, 26, 28-31; 1 Thessalonians 5:1—6; Matthew 24: 36, 25:14 —15, 19-21

Waiting for the Beloved

The other night I found myself walking towards the gate of heaven. On the way there I ran into some figures in the dark who were crying. 'Why are you crying?' I asked. 'We're crying because the Lord refused to let us in. He said he didn't know us,' they replied. I arrived at the gate to find it locked. So with some hesitation and no little trepidation I rang the bell, knowing that it was the Lord himself who would answer.

As I stood there waiting, a terrifying question arose in my mind: Will he know me? Of course he'll know me! Ah, yes, but will he recognize me as a disciple of his? That's the question. And it's one I can't do anything about now. It's too late to change anything. I dreaded the thought that I might find myself excluded, an outsider, alone.

What's he going to look for? I asked myself. Then I thought of the parable of the lamps. He will look for a lamp that is burning brightly. What have I done with my lamp? 'Oh, good, I still have it,' I exclaimed. But when I looked at it I found to my horror that it had gone out.

However, at that moment I woke up to find that it was only a dream. What a relief! It was just a warning that the Lord in his goodness had given me to wake me up, to shake me out of my sloth and carelessness.

Wouldn't it be terrible to arrive at heaven's door, to knock and then to have the Lord come out and say to you, 'I do not know you.' and you find yourself outside alone in the dark, while inside all is light, joy, community and celebration.

What lamp are we talking about? Essentially it is the lamp of love. Love, in order to be genuine, doesn't have to be extraordinary. What we need is to love without getting tired or cynical.

How does a lamp burn? Through a continuous input of small drops of oil. If the drops of oil cease, the lamp will go out. What are these drops of oil in our lamps? They are the small things of daily life: faithfulness, punctuality, small words of kindness, a thought for others, our way of being silent, of looking, of speaking and of acting. These are drops of love that keep our religious life burning like a lively flame.

Jesus shared our life, our loneliness, our anguish, our death. He is not far away from us. He is very close to us. We can touch, serve and love him everyday in our lives. With the oil of prayer and the good works we must keep the lamp of faith burning, and he will recognize us. We won't be judged on a momentary lapse, but on our life as a whole.

Since we do not know the day nor the hour of the Lord's coming, we must be prepared so that when he comes we can enter his kingdom. To be prepared means to be a doer rather than a mere hearer of the word.

All that Jesus says to us in this parable is meant as a warning. This warning is a sign of his love for us. It tells that the soul should always be ready for the coming of the Bridegroom, always waiting for the voice of the Beloved.

Reflection

One aspect of this parable is the benefits of planning ahead, and one of the essential elements of planning is knowing how things are—"How much oil have I got? How much will I need if the bridegroom is delayed?" Then you can decide whether you'll have enough, whether you should carry some with you or whether you can get more easily.

The church life survey we're going to do is all about giving us a clearer picture of our church so that we can be more effective in our planning. The picture we'll gain is not just about who we are—our demographics as it were—but how we're involved, what we want for and from our church, how our faith is growing and so on.

It will show us clearly the strengths we have as a church that we can build on as we become a more effective Christian community on mission.

A REQUEST FROM VITAE

The Vitae Fundraising Committee had, as one of its members, a person experienced in fundraising for charities. Unfortunately, due to other pressures in his life, he has had to resign from the Committee. We are searching for a replacement. If there is among you someone who may be able to fill that vacancy I would be most pleased to have a chat with you.

The Fundraising Committee meets monthly (but not Dec or Jan). The Committee, at the moment consists of four. Two men who run their own medium sized businesses, a lady from Rowland (www.rowland.com.au) and myself. We would very much appreciate some new ideas. I may be contacted on 3821 7472.

With thanks,
John Butler, Monsignor

Time to smile

When the mother returned from the grocery store, her small son pulled out the box of animal crackers he had been begging for. Then he spread all the animal-shaped crackers over the kitchen counter.

"What are you doing?" his mother asked.

"The box says you can't eat them if the seal is broken," the boy explained. "I'm looking for the seal."

Thirty-second week in Ordinary Time

First reading: Wisdom 6: 12-16.

As we come to the end of the Church's year, the focus of the readings turns to the end of time. This reading focuses on those who seek God. Listen here how God waits patiently for us to respond. How will I do this? How can I use my gift of knowledge to get to know my God even more?

Psalm Response: 62: 2-8.

This is a beautiful, simply expressed psalm that suggests complete reliance on God with a sense of assurance in God's help.

Second Reading: 1 Thessalonians 4: 13-18.

Paul here speaks about the "end of time" which at this stage Paul thought was going to happen soon. It hasn't come yet, - but it will at some stage. Let's at least think about it now & then.

Gospel reading: Matthew 25: 1-13.

Here Matthew focuses upon the "last things". Let us realize that admission to heaven requires a measure of personal response-ability. Am I always aware of this in my daily life?
